First name: Sofia

(A) Tell us what makes you an extraordinary personality (max. 1,000 characters incl. spaces):

My name is Sofia Vuillemin, I was born in Colombia the 19 of April 1999. I have one older brother named Carlos.

I have done school in a French and English system.

Since 1996 my father has worked as a diplomat for the French embassy, and since then my family and I have always lived around the world.

I first started living in Colombia than I moved to France were I lived in two different places, first in a little village and then in Paris. From there we moved to Cyprus, Venezuela, Viet Nam, Madrid and finally Mauritius where I currently live. I have visited 32 countries, changed schools 8 times and moved in 9 times.

The question I get the most often is: ' how is it to travel that much? ' And the answer is simple: it's amazing! And it is true, I have an opportunity that not many children were given when there were born and it's to discover. Because every country I visit, every experience I have is a chance to discover something new that enriches me.

Since my mother is Spanish and my dad is French I have always had a mixture of cultures and languages at home.

I have been in an English-speaking environment ever since my childhood, from the school I went, to the friends I have and the countries I lived and visited.

I enjoy taking pictures, and I just started participating to contests, in which I won with one of the pictures that I took on a trip to Africa.

I would love having the opportunity to discover Canada and its culture and to improve my English.
